*A poll of 89 clients were all satisfied with The Photo Team's professional photography service.

Collectively we have over 25 years experience of photography at a professional level and this has led us to be one of the leading photography providers in London. The Photo Team are specialist event and corporate photographers. We are not like other photographers as we are very focussed in our approach and that is what makes us specialists.

The Photo Team...

Flexible

Listen

Single client focus.
We really listen to your needs.

Understand

We will listen and understand your requests, and most importantly, we speak your language, not technical jargon.

Engage

Our company prides itself in excellent customer service. It is definitely not just a department within the company and we achieve excellent results by engaging with each and every client.

Converse

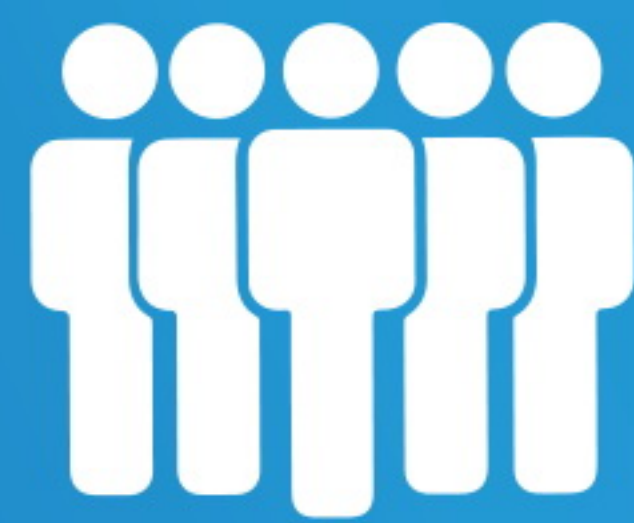

Communication is the key to success...
We keep you updated every step of the way, before, during and after the event.

If you are responsible for booking a PHOTOGRAPHER...

86% of buyers would pay more for a better service.

82% of people who booked a provider based on the cheapest quote, regretted or had fears over their decision soon after.

80% of customers will do business with a company that delivers consistently.

Competitive

The Photo Team has a large team of professional photographers, so when you hire us you hire a whole team of experts!

We will deliver exactly what we promise. Our research shows us that the large majority of photographers are freelance individuals who work by themselves. Why take the chance with one photographer especially when you can get the assurance of an expert company who is committed to your needs every step of the way before, during and after your event. Our experienced team of photographers and graphic designers will take care of every aspect of your professional photography requirements.

You often regret an economy, but seldom regret an extravagance...

Huge thanks for everything last night. It was great to meet you and have you there! We were all really impressed with the efforts and professionalism. You really helped get the vibe going towards the end with all those who wanted a picture taken. We will certainly be highly recommending you and look forward to using you again for our future events.
